If the Regime's broader purpose in hyping the so-called January 6 "insurrection" is to cast all Trump supporters as de facto domestic terrorists, its more urgent and immediate purpose is to kneecap the political prospects of Trump and his allies as the 2024 elections approach.

That the overhyped January 6 Committee hearings turned out to be a major ratings flop may not therefore ultimately matter, depending on the Committee's success in pressuring its audience of one, Attorney General Merrick Garland, to pursue criminal charges against the former President. Garland himself took the ominous step of noting that he is watching the hearings and he can "assure us that all of the January 6 prosecutors are watching all the hearings as well."

We've gotten a taste of this in the egregious (and ultimately unsuccessful) attempts of Democrat lawfare operations to use the Jan 6 Fedsurrection as a pretext to remove MAGA stalwart Marjorie Taylor Greene from the ballot. AG Garland's ominous announcement, coupled with the January 6 Committee's singular and absurd focus on President Trump's alleged culpability in an attempted "coup" on January 6, brings the immediate political objectives of the regime into still sharper focus. The January 6 committee and its careful observers in the DOJ are the Biden Regime's way of holding the threat of criminal prosecution over the head of Donald Trump, who just happens to be Biden's presumptive rival in the 2024 Presidential election. If the deterrent effect alone isn't sufficient to neutralize Trump and his supporters, jail time might have to do the trick.

As it so happens, an individual by the name of Norm Eisen has emerged as one of the leading voices formulating January 6 Committee's purpose as teeing up a criminal indictment against Trump for the Justice Department. If the name sounds familiar, it is because Revolver News brought Eisen's name to national attention as a key Democrat legal hatchet man and color revolution professional driving a coup attempt against then sitting President Donald Trump:

This third installment of Revolver News' series exposing the Color Revolution against Trump will focus on one quiet and indeed mostly overlooked participant in the Transition Integrity Project's biased election "war games" exercise—a man by the name of Norm Eisen.

As the man who implemented the David Brock blueprint for suing the President into paralysis and his allies into bankruptcy, who helped mainstream and amplify the Russia Hoax, who drafted 10 articles of impeachment for the Democrats a full month before President Trump ever called the Ukraine President in 2018, who personally served as special counsel litigating the Ukraine impeachment, who created a template for Internet censorship of world leaders and a handbook for mass mobilizing racial justice protesters to overturn democratic election results, there is perhaps no man alive with a more decorated resume for plots against President Trump.

READ THE REST... Meet Norm Eisen: Legal Hatchet Man and Central Operative in the "Color Revolution" Against President Trump

Though Norm Eisen kept a low profile for months after Revolver's expose on him, he has been positively giddy as of late at the prospect of the January 6 committee serving up a criminal indictment of President Trump.

COMMENTARY

To indict Donald Trump, prosecutors will need to prove intent. Well, here it comes

The hardest part will be establishing Trump's criminal intent. That's what the Jan. 6 hearings should provide

It would be one thing if Norm Eisen were just a bystander, cheering on the prospect of a potential political prosecution of his nemesis, President Trump. But unsurprisingly, a little digging reveals that Norm Eisen has enjoyed a much more direct and disturbing involvement in shaping the January 6 Committee than previously understood. The details are scandalous, but not surprising. After all, we reported years ago that there is no man alive more decorated for plots against Trump, and why should January 6 be any different?

An honest broker?

To understand Norm Eisen's role as the hand guiding the January 6 Committee, we will first go back to February, 2021. In an opinion piece for USA Today, Norm Eisen praised Bennie Thompson for filing a lawsuit against Trump (emphasis ours):

The repetition of the core falsehood that led to the deadly insurrection is not to be taken lightly. Trump used the lies about his election loss to fuel the rage of his followers for months — culminating in the deadly attack on the Capitol. If Trump and his ilk successfully co-opt the bona fide patriotism felt by their millions of followers, turning a love of country into a potent anti-democratic force, they will very likely stimulate more violence. They are also breaking the bedrock of our democracy: faith in our free and fair elections.

This ongoing campaign of lies must be stopped with an aggressive legal campaign.

First and foremost, all civil remedies for the ongoing peddling of the Big Lie need to be pursued. We welcome Democratic Mississippi Rep. Bennie Thompson's lawsuit with the NAACP alleging that Trump, Rudy Giuliani and the far-right groups Proud Boys and Oath Keepers conspired to incite the violence during the Electoral College vote.

Thompson alleges that all of these defendants violated the Ku Klux Klan Act of 1871 — a law created during Reconstruction and aptly deployed here — to “prevent, by force, intimidation, or threat,” any office holder from performing their duties.

Eisen is referring to a memory-holed lawsuit that most of the American public has never heard about.

As Revolver reported last year, five months before he was tapped as chairman of the Commission, Rep. Thompson filed a lawsuit in his personal capacity, with himself as lead plaintiff, against four parties: Donald Trump, Rudy Giuliani, the Oath Keepers organization, and the Proud Boys organization. In his complaint, Thompson alleges an “Alley Oop” conspiracy theory of January 6. According to this theory, Trump and his agents on the inside conspired with the Oath Keepers, Proud Boys and agents on the outside to incite a crowd to attack the Capitol (emphasis ours):

The insurrection at the Capitol was a direct, intended, and foreseeable result of the Defendants’ unlawful conspiracy. It was instigated according to a common plan that the Defendants pursued since the election held in November 2020, culminating in an assembly denominated as the “Save America” rally held at the Ellipse in Washington, D.C. on January 6, 2021, during which Defendants Trump and Giuliani incited a crowd of thousands to descend upon the Capitol in order to prevent or delay through the use of force the counting of Electoral College votes. As part of this unified plan to prevent the counting of Electoral College votes, Defendants Proud Boys and Oath Keepers, through their leadership, acted in concert to spearhead the assault on the Capitol while the angry mob that Defendants Trump and Giuliani incited descended on the Capitol. The carefully orchestrated series of events that unfolded at the Save America rally and the storming of the Capitol was no accident or coincidence. It was the intended and foreseeable culmination of a carefully coordinated campaign to interfere with the legal process required to confirm the tally of votes cast in the Electoral College.

Bennie Thompson ultimately dropped his lawsuit when he was appointed to head the January 6 Committee in order to “avoid the appearance of conflict.” Thompson’s dropped lawsuit against Trump was predicated on a theory that the “insurrection at the Capitol was a direct, intended, and foreseeable result” of an “unlawful conspiracy.” How is it not already a conflict of interest for Thompson to go from that lawsuit to chairing a congressional committee tasked with fairly and objectively investigating, without any preconceived notions, what happened on January 6th? Appointing Thompson to chair the January 6 Committee after he initiated the lawsuit in question is just as much a conflict of interest as, say, appointing Henry Kissinger to chair the 9/11 commission.

If Bennie Thompson walked into the Committee with a preconceived theory of the case for January 6 advanced in his lawsuit, the question arises as to where this theory ultimately came from. After all, the lawsuit had a well-laid-out theory of January 6 in mid February, which is barely a month after January 6th. That’s a pretty quick turn around. Did Bennie Thompson come up with the Trump, Giuliani, Proud Boy, Oath Keeper conspiracy theory himself? Of course not.

In the Norm Eisen quote above, Eisen refers to Thompson’s “lawsuit with the NAACP.” Along with the NAACP, Joseph Sellers of the law firm Cohen Milstein represented Thompson in the lawsuit.

As it turns out, Joseph Sellers and Norm Eisen are friends. The following excerpt is from an interview with Norm Eisen on a podcast called “Talking Feds” (emphasis ours):

One interesting lawsuit that happened and one that seems possibly to be ripening toward market. And I just wanted to talk briefly about them, so there’s first this Bennie Thompson suit under, let’s get nerdy a little bit on ’em, Norm... USC 1985, Section 1. And there was a kind of at least poetic justice there, given it’s the Ku Klux Klan Act. And Norm, how about the quick skinny on what that suit is, and whether you think it’s a serious prospect to have Trump at least have to be deposed?

Norm Eisen [00:40:30] A very serious threat to Trump. It’s Representative Thompson suing Trump, Giuliani, the Proud Boys and the Oath Keepers. Section 1985 is a well-known grounds for civil litigation. What’s unusual is that it’s Section 1985-1, which is a prohibition on conspiring to prevent anyone holding an office of the United States from discharging their official duties...

Harry Litman [00:41:04] From doing their job, right? It’s like perfect for this.

Norm Eisen [00:41:07] It’s very seldom deployed, very clever. They’ve got great litigants on the poetic justice front. It’s called the Klan Act because it was passed after the Civil War because the Klan was running rampant, blocking reconstruction by fighting federal, state and local officials in reconstruction, and the poetic justice of having the NAACP litigating the case as counsel for Congressman Thompson and also one of the great, great civil rights lawyers, my friend Joe Sellers at Cohen Milstein.

So the January 6th conspiracy theory lawsuit that Bennie Thompson launched against Trump, Giuliani, the Proud Boys and Oath Keepers was essentially conceived of and written by Cohen Milstein lawyer Joe Sellers, Norm Eisen’s friend.

It is hard to imagine that Eisen wouldn’t have offered strategic and legal direction to his friend Joe Sellers in the preparation of this lawsuit. In fact, not only are Norm Eisen and Joe Sellers friends, they have a professional history of working together in anti-Trump operations.

Recall that way back on January 23, 2017, Norm Eisen’s lawfare outfit CREW filed a civil suit against Trump for his alleged violation of the Emoluments clause of the Constitution. The absurd suit was predicated on the theory that some foreign government officials would stay at Trump properties while visiting D.C., therefore violating the Foreign Emoluments Clause of the constitution banning presidents from taking gifts from foreign officials.

The merits of the now defunct complaint are unimportant for our purposes. What's relevant for our purposes is the fact that Joe Sellers was co-counsel to Norm Eisen in this anti-Trump lawsuit dating back to just days after Trump's inauguration in January 2017:

CREW, ROC and Washington, DC-based events booker Jill Phaneuf are represented in the case by an all-star team of top constitutional scholars, ethics experts and litigators who have combined to argue 45 cases before the Supreme Court. The lawyers on the case include CREW's board chair and vice-chair Norman Eisen and Richard Painter, the top ethics lawyers for the last two presidents, constitutional law scholars Erwin Chemerinsky, Laurence H. Tribe and Zephyr Teachout, Deepak Gupta of Gupta Wessler PLLC and Joseph Sellers of Cohen Milstein Sellers & Toll PLLC.

[\[CREW\]](#)

It is notable that Joe Sellers and Norm Eisen had a lawsuit teed up and ready for Trump just days after he was inaugurated President. If it appears the legal hit job was set up in advance, it's because it was. In fact, Norm Eisen's entire lawfare outfit CREW was teed up in advance as part of David Brock's infamous multi pronged strategy to remove Trump from office on day one:

David Brock, the seasoned liberal operative and Clinton loyalist who founded Media Matters, huddled with more than 100 donors last weekend at the swanky Turnberry Isle Resort in Aventura, Fla. to map out how Democrats will "kick Donald Trump's ass."

The Washington Free Beacon attended the retreat and obtained David Brock's private and confidential memorandum from the meeting. The memo, "Democracy Matters: Strategic Plan for Action," outlines Brock's four-year agenda to attack Trump and Republicans using Media Matters, American Bridge, Citizens for Responsibility and Ethics in Washington (CREW), and Shareblue.

The memo contains plans for defeating Trump through impeachment, expanding Media Matters' mission to combat "government misinformation," ensuring Democratic control of the Senate in the 2018 midterm elections, filing lawsuits against the Trump administration, monetizing political advocacy, using a "digital attacker" to delegitimize Trump's presidency and damage Republicans, and partnering with Facebook to combat "fake news."

Experience Revolver without ads

This leaked David Brock memo was written before President Trump took office, further suggesting that all of the efforts to undermine Trump have not been good faith responses to his behavior, but a pre-ordained attack strategy designed to overturn the 2016 election by any means necessary. Eisen conducted most of his impeachment activity before there was any discussion or knowledge of President Trump's call to the Ukrainian President in 2018—indeed, before the call even happened. Impeachment was very clearly a foregone conclusion. If you will recall, Norm Eisen and Joseph Sellers dropped the emoluments clause civil complaint against Trump just days after Trump's inauguration.

But the attempt to overturn the 2016 election failed, as did Eisen's various impeachment attempts. But Norm Eisen and crew are nothing if not persistent. The next step in their master plan is to use similar lawfare tactics to take Trump and his supporters out of the running for 2024. And that explains why Norm Eisen's old lawfare accomplice Joseph Sellers represented Bennie Thompson in a lawsuit against Trump whose conspiracy theory of Trump's allegedly unlawful incitement on January 6 then became the basis for the nominally bipartisan and unbiased January 6 Select Committee, chaired by none other than Bennie Thompson!

Though Norm Eisen resigned from CREW, he founded a new lawfare arm shamelessly called the States United Democracy Center. States United appears to pick up where CREW left off. When it is not targeting so-called "election deniers" running for office (that is, those who dare question the integrity of the 2020 election), States United is directly engaged in anti-Trump lawfare related to January 6.

Through his new lawfare arm States United, Norm Eisen served as counsel for the District of Columbia in its lawsuit against several January 6 defendants. Although Trump is not named in the suit, the lawsuit's theory of the case closely tracks Bennie Thompson's original February 2021 lawsuit against Trump, authored by Eisen's friend and lawfare accomplice Joseph Sellers. Indeed, Norm Eisen's lawsuit on behalf of D.C. explicitly follows the thesis of Bennie Thompson's lawsuit that Trump unlawfully incited the January 6 rally goers to the Capitol:

172. For his part, President Trump called the crowd to action, using his position to echo and amplify the message Defendants had already started to send out: “You’ll never take back our country with weakness. You have to show strength, and you have to be strong.”

173. Again, the crowd responded: “YES! STORM THE CAPITOL! INVADE THE CAPITOL BUILDING! Let’s take the Capitol! Right now!!”

174. Twenty minutes before President Trump’s speech concluded, members of Oath Keepers, including Defendant Watkins, left the “rally” and began marching toward the Capitol.

175. As President Trump’s comments neared their conclusion, his rhetoric fanned the flames that Defendants had ignited, imploring the crowd to “fight like hell” or risk losing the country: “Something is wrong here, something is really wrong, can’t have happened and we fight, we fight like hell. and if you don’t fight like hell. you’re not going to have a country anymore.”

Eisen’s States United lawfare organization also stepped in directly to help Bennie Thompson in an amicus brief on behalf of Thompson in Trump v. Thompson—a case in which Trump invoked executive privilege in an effort to prevent Thompson from gaining access to certain White House records.

As we can see, Norm Eisen has been a busy man since Revolver News' first groundbreaking expose. Furthermore, we see that all of the major January 6 legal efforts against Trump, including the activities of the January 6 Committee and its chairman, carry Eisen's dirty fingerprints. It is not a surprise that this should be the case. Indeed Eisen's lawfare efforts surrounding January 6 are just an extension of his efforts dating all the way back to before Trump's inauguration, as exposed in the infamous David Brock memo alluded to earlier in this report. If Eisen's lawfare couldn't nullify the 2016 election with Russiagate, and if he couldn't successfully impeach Trump, the next best thing is to kneecap Trump's political prospects in 2024—and what better way to do this than the looming threat of criminal prosecution permeating every waking moment of the sham January 6 Committee?

Before we conclude this study, it is worth noting something about Norm Eisen's new lawfare outfit, States United Democracy Center. Besides the characteristically cynical use of the term "democracy," we are struck by some of Eisen's colleagues who are also associated with the group. Eisen co-founded States United with Christine Todd Whitman:

Experience Revolver without ads

Meet Our Leaders

JOANNA LYDGATE

Founder and Chief Executive Officer

NORM EISEN

Founder and Executive Chair

CHRISTINE TODD WHITMAN

Founder and Co-Chair

Christine is a blue blood aristocrat whose storied career as a deep state lackey dates back to the Bush years, where she was the head of the EPA during September 11, 2001. Whitman gained notoriety for providing misleading assurances in the days after 9/11 that the air in Manhattan “didn’t pose a health hazard”—a potentially deadly mistake given that over four thousand first responders have died since 9/11 due to complications of breathing air contaminants.

Christie Whitman says air is safe days after 911

A 2003 report by the EPA Inspector General criticized Whitman harshly for her behavior in the aftermath of 9/11. Indeed, Whitman’s behavior was so damning that she eventually capitulated and apologized on the 15th anniversary of 9/11.

If Whitman’s track record make her an odd choice to partner up with Norm Eisen in his latest lawfare venture, Eisen’s other associates are still more ominous.

Take a look at the advisory board and see if you can notice a pattern:

Advisory Board

The States United Advisory Board brings together former administration officials, law enforcement leaders, and former state and local leaders from both parties who are committed to engaging and empowering pro-democracy leadership.

STEVE BULLOCK

TOM RIDGE

BILL WELD

MICHAEL STEELE

MICHAEL CHERTOFF

JANET NAPOLITANO

If the pattern you noticed is that everyone is anti-Trump, you get a consolation prize. The truly striking thing is that the advisory board to Norm Eisen's new lawfare group contains not one, not two, but three former heads of the Department of Homeland Security—that's right, Michael Chertoff, Janet Napolitano, and Tom Ridge were all heads of the DHS.

The overwhelmingly heavy presence of top DHS officials at States United contrasts dramatically with the absence of any top DHS officials at CREW, Norm Eisen's previous lawfare outfit. More importantly, the heavy DHS presence at States United takes on a special significance given States United's special focus on January 6 lawsuits and in directly assisting the January 6 Committee and its Chairman. As Revolver has reported extensively, the Department of Homeland Security is the tip of the spear when it comes to the "Domestic War on Terror," that is, the reconfiguration of the national security apparatus as a political weapon to target Trump and his supporters.

READ MORE: Revolver Investigates Disturbing Link Between DHS and the Domestic War on MAGA

Experience Revolver without ads

Hide ads now

Given that the "insurrection" narrative of January 6 serves as one of the foremost pretexts for the domestic war on terror, there is something deeply improper — even ominous — about the Department of Homeland Security's close ties with the January 6 Committee. It just so happens, as Revolver previously reported, that Bennie Thompson is the Department of Homeland Security's stooge within Congress. Indeed, Bennie Thompson was Chair of the Homeland Security Committee the last time the Democrats controlled the House from 2007-2011, and of course, since the Democrats won back the House in 2019, Thompson has resumed the Chair role:

Thompson is a key component in the establishment DNC's merger with the national security state after 9/11, using the pretext of fake "domestic terrorism." As an untouchable incumbent in Mississippi with 28 years in Congress, Thompson was the chair of the Homeland Security Committee from 2007-2011 and has been back in charge again since 2019.

Essentially, whenever Democrats have a majority in the House, Thompson is put in as the hatchet man to control oversight of the Department of Homeland Security.

In 2007, Thompson's first act as chair of the Homeland Security Committee was to sponsor a bill that granted sweeping new police powers to DHS, using the pretext of 9/11.

Bennie Thompson scratches the back of an ever-expanding US national security state. In turn, Thompson is rewarded with plush committee chair roles and an expanding DHS turf of his own.

READ THE REST... Decision By January 6th Commission to Ignore Oath Keeper Stewart Rhodes Just Unmasked Their Entire Investigation

Ironically, in 2004, Thompson was one of only 31 House Democrats who voted to overturn the results of the Bush-Gore election. But today, the vast Department of Homeland Security agency reports to him. And that agency now calls anyone who claims fraud in the 2020 election "Potential Terror Threats."

MEMORANDUM FOR THE SECRETARY

FROM: Robert Silvers /s/
Under Secretary
Office of Strategy, Policy, and Plans

Samantha Vinograd /s/
Senior Counselor for National Security
Office of the Secretary

SUBJECT: Organizing DHS Efforts to Counter Disinformation

The spread of disinformation¹ presents serious homeland security risks:

- Conspiracy theories about the validity and security of elections may undermine trust in core democratic institutions, amplify threats against election personnel, and jeopardize the voting rights of vulnerable communities.
- Disinformation related to the origins and effects of COVID-19 vaccines or the efficacy of masks undercuts public health efforts to combat the pandemic.
- Foreign terrorists, nation-states, and domestic violent extremist (DVE) groups leverage disinformation narratives to amplify calls to violence, including racially or ethnically motivated and anti-government/anti-authority violence. These actors often amplify and exploit narratives that already exist in public discourse, such as disinformation surrounding the validity of the 2020 election underpinning calls to violence on January 6, 2021.
- Disinformation can complicate the performance of core DHS missions. Falsehoods surrounding U.S. Government immigration policy drive vulnerable populations to pay smugglers to bring them on the dangerous journey to our southern border. Disinformation can hamper emergency responders in the aftermath of natural disasters or other incident responses.

A recent piece in The New Yorker on January 6 and the Consolidation of Right Wing Extremism quoted John Cohen, who was acting chief of intelligence for the Department of Homeland Security under Biden until this April (emphasis ours):

For Cohen, the former D.H.S. intelligence official, the deliberate spread of false election-fraud claims is a recipe for continued polarization and violence. “I’ve seen intelligence calling on people to go self-deploy as poll watchers, to take actions to determine whether people should be legitimately voting,” he said. “We can anticipate as we get closer to the midterms that polarization will increase.” He added, “The more that’s out there, the higher the likelihood that someone will consume that disinformation and act in response to it.”

[\[The New Yorker\]](#)

Another former DHS official, Elizabeth Neumann, who was Assistant DHS Secretary of Counterterrorism under Trump (oh, the swamp!) came out and actually identified the prospect of a second term for Trump as a national security threat:

Neumann, the former D.H.S. Assistant Secretary for Counterterrorism, has an additional fear: a second Trump Administration. The former President’s return to the Oval Office would signal to white supremacists and other right-wing groups that they have “an ally in government,” Neumann said. “I think you would see mass resignations, not just at D.H.S. but across the government.” Neumann and other former Trump Administration officials said that Trump and his allies were initially slowed by their lack of experience in running large government agencies. “But toward the end they were figuring it out,” Neumann said. “And it concerns me that the damage they could do would far exceed what they did in their four years in power. Exponentially worse—because he has no constraints at that point.”

[The New Yorker]

Unsurprisingly, Elizabeth Neumann can be found on the internet palling around with her fellow DHS pal Miles Taylor, also known as the disgraced “Anonymous” official who penned a letter to the New York Times on how he was working to undermine the Trump administration from within.

By striking coincidence, Elizabeth Neumann happens to be one of the very first witnesses Bennie Thompson, Chair of the Homeland Security Committee, called upon in the Committee’s first January 6 hearing back on February 4th, 2021, just a week before Bennie Thompson filed his lawsuit against Trump, and months before he became Chair of the January 6 Committee:

(WASHINGTON) – On Thursday, February 4th, the Committee on Homeland Security, chaired by Rep. Bennie G. Thompson (D-MS), will hold a hearing examining the ongoing domestic terrorism threat in the wake of the January 6th attack on the U.S. Capitol. This hearing will be the Committee’s first in its ongoing investigation into the events of that day as well as the Federal response to the attack and the domestic violent extremism threat.

This hearing will provide Members the opportunity to 1) examine the circumstances that led to the attack on the U.S. Capitol and preceding domestic terrorism incidents, 2) discuss how to support communities affected by domestic terrorism, and 3) assess how to counter the threat and prevent future domestic terrorism attacks. This virtual hearing will be streamed live on YouTube (link below).

Event details:

WHAT: Full Committee Hearing: Examining the Domestic Terrorism Threat in the Wake of the Attack on the U.S. Capitol

WHEN: Thursday, February 4 @ 10:00 am EST

WITNESSES:

- Christopher Rodriguez, PhD, Director, Homeland Security and Emergency Management Agency, District of Columbia
- Ms. Elizabeth Neumann, Founder and Managing Director, Neu Summit Strategies & Former Assistant Secretary for Counterterrorism and Threat Prevention, U.S. Department of Homeland Security
- Mr. Jonathan Greenblatt, Chief Executive Officer, Anti-Defamation League
- Mr. Brian Michael Jenkins, Senior Advisor to the RAND President, The Rand Corporation

Updated info and livestream available here.

In a particularly shocking portion of the this Homeland Security Committee’s hearing, Neumann addresses the supposed threat of terrorist violence (as on January 6) emerging from those who dare to question the validity of the 2020 election. Neumann estimates that there are approximately 51 million American citizens who are skeptical about the 2020 election, though she is generous enough not to characterize the entire group as terrorists. She does however go on to say that at least 250k of those pesky election deniers are terrorist threats, and she likens their existence to the presence of an equivalent number of ISIS sympathizers in the country!

When asked whether the Department of Homeland Security should take the lead in addressing the alleged terror threat emerging from “disinformation” about the 2020 election, Neumann replies in the affirmative:

And as it so happens, the Department of Homeland Security did end up establishing a Disinformation Governance Board (DGB). As we have covered above, leaked documents revealed one of the DGB's primary tasks was to address disinformation “surrounding the validity of the 2020 election underpinning calls to violence on January 6, 2021.”

The Disinformation Governance Board had to be temporarily disbanded, largely due to the negative press directed at Nina Jankowicz, the clownish deep state lackey chosen initially to head the board. Revolver News published a major investigative piece exposing Nina's ties to a NATO and US State Department-funded group called the Integrity Initiative that used Twitter to engage in secret influence operations to meddle in elections of other NATO countries.

READ MORE: Busted: Biden's “Minster of Truth” Nina Jankowicz Participated in Secret NATO-Funded Cabal to Subvert Western Democracies Using Disinformation as Cover

With Nina Jankowicz now removed from the Disinformation Governance Board, guess who the DHS has tapped to clean up the mess and come up with the next version of that Orwellian Disinformation Board...

If you guessed Michael Chertoff, you get a prize:

To help instill trust in our work, Secretary Mayorkas has asked former DHS Secretary Michael Chertoff and former U.S. Deputy Attorney General Jamie Gorelick to lead a thorough review and assessment, conducted through the bipartisan Homeland Security Advisory Council (HSAC). This assessment will focus on answering two pivotal questions. First, how can the Department most effectively and appropriately address disinformation that poses a threat to our country, while protecting free speech, civil rights, civil liberties, and privacy. Second, how can DHS achieve greater transparency across our disinformation-related work and increase trust with the public and other key stakeholders. The Secretary has requested the HSAC's final recommendations within 75 days. During the HSAC's review, the Board will not convene and its work will be paused, but the Department's critical work across several administrations to address disinformation that threatens the security of our country will continue.”

[\[DHS via Engadget\]](#)

This is the same Mike Chertoff who is one of the three former heads of the Department of Homeland Security serving as an advisor to Norm Eisen's January 6 lawfare organization.

Norm Eisen was certainly wise, even prescient, to call upon the advice and collegiality of so many former DHS heads for such a group. Norm Eisen is many things, but he is no idiot, and he was smart enough to understand the DHS' intimate role in the sham January 6 Committee and in the national security state's draconian crackdown on Trump and his supporters as a response to the false narratives generated out of the committee.

Unfortunately for Norm Eisen, Bennie Thompson, and the folks at the DHS, Revolver News has only begun to scratch the surface of this sordid collaboration.

Strap in and stay tuned. More coming very soon.

Marcus, no worries, since I'm on the backside of 80 I'm concerned about becoming a burden on my family and friends; I have a great idea, no assisted living for me!

I'm going to take out a student loan (a big one), then I'm going to live on campus and eat in the cafeteria. I can play bingo and square-dance all night with the hot chicks or whatever sex they are. I will identify as a 1960 unicorn. I loved those hippie clothes. During the day I can sleep in a class, checkout Whatfinger News, study the different sexual choices and learn how men can get pregnant and menstruate.

Life is good, I'm a lucky man. I think I need a nose ring and a face tattoo. Do you think I should go to summer school to?

Hounddog, I know what your ID name means because I was a Navy mess officer, you freekin marines need a boot camp on how to eat. What slob you are. If you'd do you background check you would know Whatfinger News was founded by military people and 100% unapologetic for being patriotic. Unlike Drudge the Ukraine deep state operator, they show opposing views, sites and papers. Every person mentioned in this Revolver article is a Marxist or Mao subversive who need new necktie.

You dumb Evangelicals should shut up. You rate Jews higher than yourselves. While they rate you LOWER THAN ANYONE ELSE except Muslims. How does that feel? Well, you're a masochists, you'll take every punch from them with a smile.

Jews vote 90% Democrats, while you blabber about "there are good and bad!" They are the MOST in favor of mass immigration - in fact, they wrote the anti-White immigration law in the 1960s and promoted it in the media. They dominate all leftist media and anti-White Hollywood. They are the most in favor of abolishing both the 1st and 2nd Amendment, they together with Blacks. They are hate Evangelicals the most. They are the strongest supporters of Affirmative Discrimination, together with Blacks.

In fact, ONLY JEWS support Affirmative Discrimination MORE after they hear that it "might" hurt Whites. Even Blacks support it less when they are first told that. But Jews support it more. Showing their hatred of Whites is unique. Just like their anti-White voting patterns

This actually is completely true
Judaism is not a race or ethnicity, it's just another religion, somehow people can't understand that fact, and trying to assess a person by their religion is not reliable
Can you trust every Christian, no, can you trust every jew, no, can you trust some, or maybe even most of them, probably Yes

The leftists who went to the South some decades ago to register Blacks to vote against Whites were almost all Jews, and promoted by Jewish-owned media.

Of the top donors to the Democrats the majority are Jews. It was the homosexual Jew Paul Singer who started buying up Twitter shares in a hostile takeover, forcing the board to take on his

LOL Aww, little neocon lover Jill B with one of his many double accounts. Always saying the same thing. Except fascists were a movement of veterans fighting the communists in the streets after WWI. They allied with the conservatives as they had the conservative policies in every single issue, just that they were even MORE to the Right than conservatives. Family law, drug law, banning the Left's homosexuality and feminism and "modern art" that Jews promoted, real history in schools instead of anti-White Marxist teachings, punishing criminals, opposing the Jew-dominated communist groups. Every issue they were diametrically opposed to the communists. You are on the communist side.

Ignorant post, you don't know who created every leftist issue and who controls the anti-White media and Hollywood. Look up the website JewishContributions and start reading. Only the facts will cure that ignorance.

"savagery" Look how brainwashed you are. You say nothing about the Jewish commissars killing 60 million Whites in their concentration camps in Siberia. You just keep repeating the propaganda about "muh holocaust!" Why don't you mention the Holodomor, where a Jewish commissar orchestrated the mass death of 7 million White Ukrainians? You will never talk about that, because you obey the anti-White media.

Some of the most courageous defenders of the principles of equal rights that the Constitution is SUPPOSED to stand for are ethnic Jews. Attorney Daniel Horowitz for one, historian and political documentarian David Horowitz for another. (David's "Destructive Generation" authored with his history-writing partner Peter Collier is probably THE seminal document on the roots of the American Marxist criminal class).

The eminent historian Antony Sutton explicitly disposes of the "Jewish communist conspiracy" theory in his book "Wall St. and the Bolshevik Revolution". True many of the most prominent—and bloodthirsty—Bolsheviks were ethnic Jews. Also true they ended up dead in the Stalinist purges, just as dead as any of the others. When you understand the historical context of the anti-Czarist revolt—the pogroms that the Czars used against them—it clarifies the matter. (Too bad that US history texts are so pathetic they are afraid to say that Karl Marx was the son of a rabbi).

LOL Nice try. The media attacking the Constitution are controlled by Jews. 90% of Jews vote Left, so you lie by picking the very few who are on the Right. Speaking of which, nearly every single one who are on the right. Speaking of which, nearly every single one of the Jews that got ahead in the GOP instead are pro-immigration to bury Whites, just like their brethren who are the major financiers and media promoters on the Left. The neocons are a Jewish movement. Their twin agenda was to wage war against the nations that opposed Israel's ethnic cleansing of Palestinians, and MASS IMMIGRATION to the U.S. and Europe.

EVERY Jewish organization in the U.S. and Europe supports mass immigration to give the Left permanent election victories. When Arabs flooded Greece Israel sent IsraAID to tell them what claims to make to get asylum, and gave them phone numbers to leftist organizations in Germany for legal aid, organizations funded by the Jew George Soros. Who also financed the BurnLootMurder movement and is the top financier of the Democrats. Jews also wrote the 1960s law that opened the doors for mass immigration,
