All of the sham indictments and convictions in the world are not enough to slow down Donald Trump. Even by his own rarified standards, Donald Trump was in particularly rare form at a recent barnburner rally in Las Vegas, Nevada. Trump must have sent shivers down some spines in the FBI with his impromptu riff on January 6—specifically, Ray Epps, Scaffold Commander, and some of the other notorious Fedsurrection villains Revolver News has exposed in its myriad classic investigative pieces.

Trump talks about Ray Epps telling people to go into the Capitol building

"What a set up that was. What a horrible, horrible thing" pic.twitter.com/DMLNTthjHT

— johnny maga (@_johnnymaga) June 9, 2024

Ray Epps' name has of course largely become synonymous with the Fedsurrection scam that the regime has used not only as a pretext to weaponize the national security state against "domestic terrorist" Trump supporters but more recently to at least one of the many criminal indictments against Trump and the as-yet unsuccessful efforts to remove his name from ballots.

We have posted a short compilation of Epps' behavior on January 6th below.

I give you Ray Epps, the only Jan 6 participant the NYT, 60 Minutes, Adam Kinzinger, and the DOJ will defend!
pic.twitter.com/fPaGan9oys

— Darren J. Beattie 🌐 (@DarrenJBeattie) July 10, 2023

Epps' behavior was so egregious that he was one of the first twenty people added to the FBI's January 6th most wanted list. In a New York Times video compilation called "Day of Rage," the footage of Epps is featured prominently to suggest that the January 6th insurrection was planned in advance, which makes sense as Epps is the only person caught on camera repeatedly urging crowds to storm the Capitol as early as the evening of January 5th. Shortly after Revolver News ran its first major piece questioning federal involvement on January 6th, however, the tune changed. Epps was quietly taken off the most-wanted list, and the New York Times eventually wrote a fully-dedicated puff piece about him.

What a remarkable thing indeed to think that this man Ray Epps, who was wearing a Trump hat and camo gear, urging people into the Capitol, who was pre-positioned at the initial breach site of the Capitol, who had been the president of the Arizona chapter of the Oath Keepers, the most demonized and heavily prosecuted militia group in relation to January 6th, and who infamously texted his nephew that he "orchestrated it" in reference to the events of January 6th, is at the same time the only January 6 participant the New York Times will defend!

For those interested, we published a compilation of some extremely rare \(and exceptionally damning\) footage of Ray Epps. And of course, those who are new to this topic or who are interested in a refresher should consult our ground-breaking Meet Ray Epps series (click here for Part 1 and here for Part 2).

Ironically, the one thing Biden's corrupt DOJ gets right about January 6th is that Revolver News is responsible for changing the national conversation on January 6, largely on the basis of our ground-breaking reporting on Ray Epps (and the pipe bombs, of course).

At least the DOJ credits Revolver News in its Ray Epps indictment with bringing the curious case of Ray Epps and the Fedsurrection to public attention pic.twitter.com/jUg9mMp12j

— Darren J. Beattie 🌐 (@DarrenJBeattie) January 3, 2024

The recent Las Vegas rally was not the first time Trump has mentioned Epps. Trump rified on Epps in an interview with Revolver's Darren Beattie last year.

BREAKING: Donald Trump speaks to @DarrenJBeattie of @RevolverNewsUSA about Ray Epps:

"One of the classics was some guy screaming 'I think he's a Fed'.. they're looking at this guy.. screaming orders to people 'Go in, go into the Capitol' and nothing ever happened (to him)." pic.twitter.com/xRydVxszaq

— ALX 🇺🇸 (@alx) January 3, 2023

What was particularly impressive about Trump's Las Vegas remarks, however, was his familiarity with suspicious characters apart from Epps. Notice that Trump refers to the so-called "Scaffold Commander," one of the most suspicious and, as of yet, unidentified characters of the Fedsurrection, covered extensively in Revolver's classic piece on Ray Epps.

Here is a clip of Darren Beattie discussing some of the darkest aspects of the Scaffold Commander mystery with Glenn Beck:

It's not just Ray Epps who the govt has ignored. @DarrenJBeattie tells me he "pulled out all the stops" to identify Jan 6 rioter "Scaffold Commander", but found NOTHING: "If his identity is actually uncovered, it's going to be one of the biggest scandals in the country." pic.twitter.com/O2gKgLvxg

— Glenn Beck (@glennbeck) January 6, 2023

For the full story of this mysterious character, read our classic piece here. Given that Revolver is one of Trump's favorite news sources, it is perhaps not such a surprise that he would be familiar with characters such as the Scaffold Commander. Indeed, Trump was publicly singling out Revolver for praise almost four years ago.

Our people have all left Drudge. He is a confused MESS, has no clue what happened. Down 51%. @DRUDGE They like REVOLVER and others!

— Donald J. Trump (@realDonaldTrump) September 14, 2020

Now more than ever, Trump understands what a corrupt scam the January 6 Fedsurrection lie really is. And now more than ever, Trump is inclined to deliver the accountability the criminals running the country so desperately deserve. With the January 6 pipe bomb hoax rapidly unraveling and key cover-up suspects having been identified, one wonders whether, under Trump's second term, the architects of the Fedsurrection will finally have to answer for the violence they've done to our nation.

Hi Bill!
Are you saying you're too lazy or stupid to find all of the convictions for firearms, ADW and other weapons charges from January 6th? All of which is public information?
And you need someone else to educate you on them?

Hi Tommy!

Are you claiming that those who are currently sitting in jail for firearms charges, went through the entire judicial system with trials, with witnesses, testimony, etc all proving they're guilty, are not Trump voters?

Keep pushing.

75% support for secession in Texas and above 50% support now in 20 other states.

DOD has openly admitted not only are they powerless to stop it (they predict 95% casualty rates inside your leftist sh1tholes if it comes to violence within a 4 month span) but that the remaining states would be completely reliant on the good graces of seceding areas.

They also admit it would likely doom the remaining states as secession under international law would negate all legal responsibility the seceding states have to the national debt and cause the remaining ones to implode as their debt per capita is doubled over night.

So keep pushing.

You will make people not only want to secede, but also isolate your sh1tholes, cut all resources to them and let your lot starve.

The only person murdered on Jan6 was a patriot named Ashli Babbitt. As opposed to BLM and Antifa riots, Jan6 was mostly peaceful. Armed insurrection? You and Hunter must have the same crack dealer.

No arms a perfectly legal protest of a rigged election and not the first one.

The ruling class ordered the deep state to provoke and direct it into chaos to undermine the populist movement for civil justice and freedom.

"Far-right" anything to the right of Stalin and Mao and the plutocratic criminals that run the USSA.

Only a fool would think Jan 6 was Pelosi's fault; her contribution was merely to ensure the event exploded into the large-scale malaise it became. To think the hack from Baltimore was instrumental in planning fedsurrection is buffoonery of the highest order.

On the other hand, only the well-uninformed ignoramia think Jan 6 was an "armed insurrection", and most of them think Nov 3 was the safest, most secure election in history.

...and it's far from adorable.
