A new video was released recently depicting the seven men and Trump supporters who were shot in the head without warning by Capitol Police on January 6, 2021.

According to earlier reports, Capitol Police Inspector Thomas Loyd Jr. ordered police to fire on the unsuspecting Trump supporters.

There is now video that shows the Trump supporters were not acting violently and had no idea they police were about to start firing rubber bullets at their heads.

David Sumrall, private investigator and founder of StopHate.com obtained all the footage of the Capitol “insurrection” at the start of the Federal Bureau of Investigation’s unprecedented probe of Americans who protested the stolen election in the nation’s Capitol on January 6, 2021.

The video makes clear police officers shot protesters in the face with deadly munitions without warning. And in the video you can clearly see Officer Thomas Loyd, Jr. urging police officers to fire on the innocent protesters.

Officer Thomas Loyd, Jr. appears to call on police to fire on the crowd moments before the rubber bullets were shot at peaceful Jan. 6 protesters.

And, according to earlier reporting by Alicia Powe, US Capitol Police Inspector Thomas Loyd Jr. ordered the initial command for cops to fire on the unsuspecting January 6 protesters without warning.

Inspector Loyd ordered officers to fire on the crowds of January 6 protesters. And, at least, seven men were hit in the face and head with bullets.

US Capitol Police Inspector Thomas Loyd Jr. was never held accountable for his extremely dangerous and unlawful behavior. Instead, he has been treated like a hero by Democrats and in the fake news press reports.

Alicia Powe wrote earlier about the exact time the police started firing rubber bullets on the unsuspecting crowd.

Here are photos from the video of the seven men who were shot in the head with rubber bullets from point blank range at the January 6, 2021 US Capitol protest.

The first victim who was shot had his hat knocked off his head.

The second victim was shot in the side of the head below his hat without warning. Still, the protesters DID NOT RIOT.

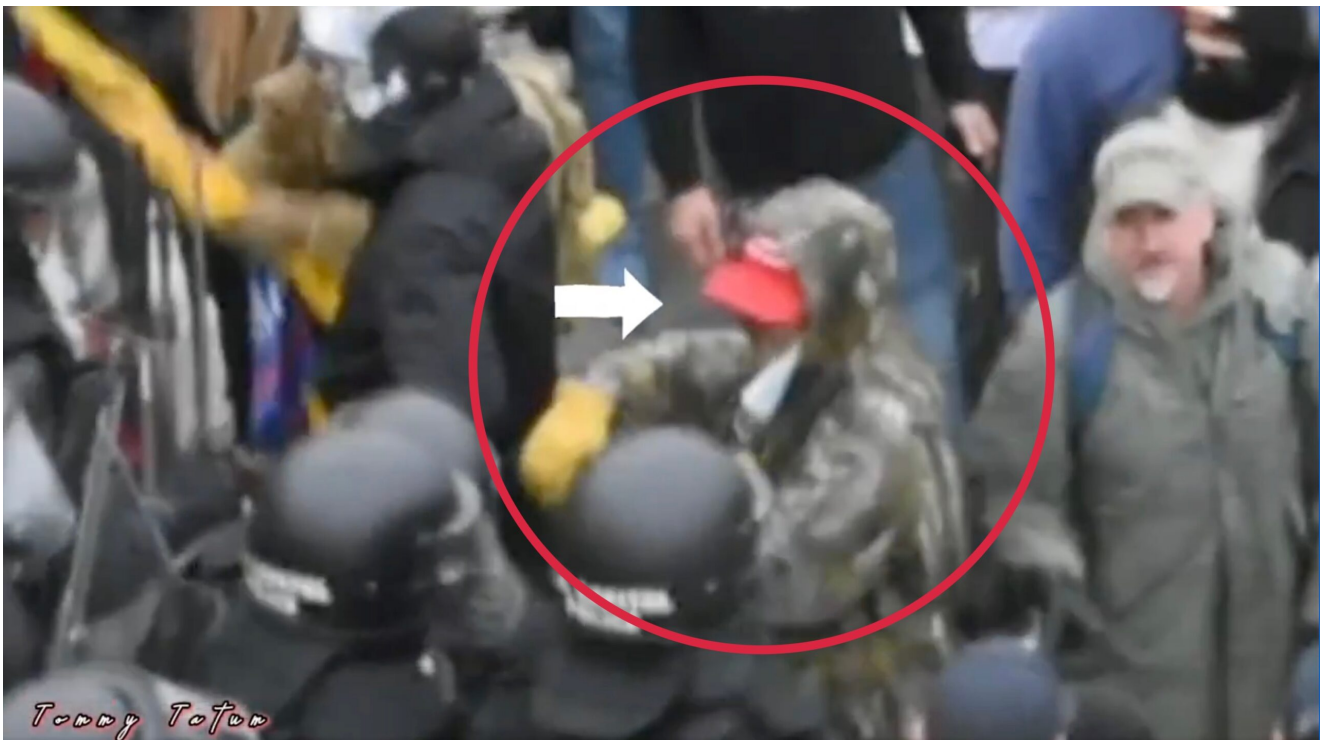

The third victim was shot in the face. You can see the bullet in the air before it struck his face.

The next bullet hit three different men starting with the man in the blue hoodie.

The bullet then ricocheted into a second man and hit the victim in the head.

And then the bullet hit a third victim who was standing in the crowd not causing any trouble.

Joshua Black was the seventh victim shot by police in the face. The bullet blew out his cheek. Joshua still is scarred today from the police shooting.

Uhm, why are we debating which of these 7 innocent protestors cops shot in the head on #january6th with rubber bullets illegally and without warning should receive pardons again? The priorities seem off quite a bit here. pic.twitter.com/Mqnc5o5beW

And it wasn't just men.

Here is a photo from January 6 of a woman who was shot by police in the leg without warning.

It is widely known that January 6 was one of the worst displays of police violence since the civil rights protests from the 1960s. The legacy media has refused to report on this fact.
