The EU and NATO Collective Face Indefatigable Will of Godzilla Trump

February 26, 2025 | Sundance | 385 Comments

They don't stand a chance, truly. Despite a few glimpses of possible hope that appeared and disappeared like twinkling remnants of a week-old glitter particle from the happy moment, the entire confab of European Commission participants, NATO alliance members, World Economic Forum pontificators and U.N. supporters of World War Reddit, are not going to force President Trump to put U.S. military troops on the ground in Ukraine to protect their investments.

The group is once again facing the indefatigable pragmaticism of President Trump. Ukraine peacekeeping security is a European issue that should be solved by European peacekeepers, not Americans.

Every member of the EU/NATO assembly, at varying degrees of self-embarrassment, admits publicly now that none of them want to participate in securing Ukraine without U.S. military troops leading the effort. It's almost ridiculous how entrenched they appear to be on this issue. Does NATO/EU not have any confidence in their own military ability?

CEASEFIRE- In order for the larger conflict to be resolved, there first needs to be a ceasefire – a cessation of hostilities. President Trump and President Putin have discussed this exact point. President Trump has also engaged President Zelenskyy on this issue; however, Zelenskyy is far less willing to end the physical hostility.

The strange assumption that looms in the background, the visibility of something you can see on the face of Trump when he talks about it, is that Zelenskyy fears the ceasefire more than he fears losing thousands more Ukrainians in the bloodshed. This is a current dynamic that needs increased scrutiny, because right now not enough people are noticing. Zelenskyy really seems to fear a ceasefire.

CTH has long outlined the greatest fear amid the EU/NATO/WEF collective, is that somehow the United States and Russia will form a strategic alliance. In fact, Marco Rubio stunningly shared that public goal of President Trump in his initial remarks after meeting his counterpart, Russian Foreign Minister Sergey Lavrov.

The New World Order the WEF/NATO/EU continually talk about, filled with the new definitions of “western democracy” where elections are controlled by Intelligence Community operatives (see ongoing operations in Romania), apparently cannot exist if the USA and Russia are allies. Stop for more than a few moments and think about that; we have yet to figure out exactly why.

British Prime Minister Kier Starmer is one of the insufferable dolts who will not allow his military to participate in the security of a ceasefire/peacekeeping force WITHOUT U.S. troops.

(WASHINGTON DC) – [...] Starmer is one of three leaders flying in to make his case at the White House this week, after French President Emmanuel Macron on Monday and ahead of Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelenskyy on Friday.

The U.K. has offered up its armed forces for a possible Europe-wide peacekeeping force in Ukraine after the war.

In return, Starmer has been coordinating with allies to ask for a U.S. “backstop” — a security guarantee that would both safeguard peacekeeping troops if Russia chose to retaliate and prevent the situation from escalating. (more)

Emmanuel Macron on Monday was desperate to ensure that President Trump would not specifically rule out the USA putting military troops into Ukraine. The political pretzel twisting that Macron exhibited in his effort to make sure there would remain a chance for U.S. troops, made the French President look silly.

Obviously, between the entire assembly they have the military forces to carry out a peacekeeping mission during a ceasefire, so why are they so desperate to avoid being responsible for it?

WASHINGTON (AP) — A planned meeting between European Union foreign policy chief Kaja Kallas and Secretary of State Marco Rubio was abruptly canceled Wednesday due to “scheduling issues,” coming as political tensions have increased between Europe and the United States.

Officials from both sides blamed scheduling challenges for preventing the pair, who last met at the Munich Security Conference in Germany last month, from meeting in Washington.

However, European officials said they were caught off guard, and, notably, Kallas had previewed her planned talks with Rubio just two days earlier.

In recent weeks, President Donald Trump has thrown the partnership between the U.S. and Europe into turmoil by pledging to charge higher taxes on imports from Europe that he says will match tariffs faced by American products. EU officials have traveled to Washington trying to head off a trade war.

Top Trump administration officials also have warned Europe that it must start taking responsibility for its own security, including Ukraine, and sidelined the Europeans from their initial talks with Russia on ending the war. In a remarkable shift, the U.S. split with its European allies by refusing to blame Russia for its invasion of Ukraine at the United Nations this week and joined Moscow in voting against a Europe-backed Ukrainian resolution. Accepting this method of conflict is unenlightened barbarism. Heck is 2025 how have we evolved, superior drones?
Just waste a second to think how much better if Putin and Zeglinski had just dueled with swords.

time the losers in europe start paying their own way, we have been saving their ass for over 100 years and paying for their security for about the same. The only decent europeans are the ones who came here in then 19th and early 20th centuries including my grandfather , mother's side(from Ireland in the 1890s, great grandparents from Poland in the mid 19th century. My 7 great grandfather, father's side went from France to Montreal in 1659. Yes, we had many great europeans come here in the 17th and 18th centuries as well.

Hang on cotton pikin minnit! A European here. In no shape or form do I support any war.

Please correct me if i am wrong. Did the see eye ah/ Victoria Nuland/ the Clinton and Obiden crime syndicate not instigate, fund, arm and send operators to use the sophisticated UNITED STATES manufactured weapons to youkrane?

I know our idiots in London sent mega bucks of our taxes and many 'advisers' over there. If America withdraws all their 'advisers. and stops sending money and arms to the little Napoleon, would that not end the war tomorrow?
Ok I am silly.

Nothing you say is incorrect, but I think you underestimate the extent to which this war is an anglo-European venture first and foremost. Keep watching and you will see England and the EU continue to insist that the war keep going, even as the US leaves the scene and partners with Russia to end the bloodshed.

Europe and England are the areas so lacking in natural resources that they think they need to take over Ukraine's and then Russia's. The war was always meant to go on forever, and the US was infiltrated, bribed, and blackmailed into backing this. Now, we'll see what the main plotters do to keep it going.

You are about to enter a deep, dark hole if you don't rise up and get these monsters' boots off your necks.

Very good points.

This conflict is, indeed, without President Trump's influence, yet another forever war.

You bring up undeniable, obvious reality, that continues to be ignored. In fact it has been heresy to point out facts in most "conservative" forums for years.

Our military commands, along with British, French and Polish are who direct the strategic course of NATO aggression using Ukraine proxys against the RF.

Our servicemen crew (if any are left) the Patriot, ATACOMS, all advanced systems on the ground in Ukraine.

Our servicemen repair the tanks we send them, and the proprietary software which opetate them.

Our satellites, AWACS and ISR systems gather target data, to determine missile strikes. We pay the entire cost of Ukraine military, their entire Civil Service and the SBU and goon squads who maintain the police state.

Trump has not ordered our military out, period.

Americans bitch about subsidizing Europe, as though it's done as charity. The once proud Empires across Europe have become neutered, vassal states.

NATO is used as the basis to maintain the European region of an unconstitutional, exploitive and failed world wide empire.

We give no aid for charity, we are simply a hyper aggressive power which seeks global dominance to enrich a handful of corporations and globalists.

The midget Zelinsky (in his fake war costume or dancing costume) is perfectly willing to continue the war as long as he doesn't have to participate or pay for it.

Yes, we did and they supported themselves and learning about America and what would be expected from them. Unlike the leeches and criminals we have in our country now, they were worthy of becoming Americans. They were HONORED to become Americans. Those are the only type of people who should be allowed in our country.

The reason is simple. A false flag attack by “Russia” after a ceasefire and an end to hostilities must harm Americans for their plan to succeed in their desire for US and Russia to finally have at it. The same way the Minsk accords was a sham.

Ceasefire means elections will be forthcoming – he can’t have that.

The EU are proving themselves to be cowards.

No. China would never be so foolish as to let that happen. China has a firm alliance with Russia at the moment and wants markets for her manufactured goods. We are headed for a healthily balanced, cooperative arrangement among three super-powers that are no longer interested in war.

The reason why a US/RF alliance is so dangerous to the tiny European countries comes down to asset base. Two of the largest countries in terms of natural assets joining forces to protect themselves means that the Europeans can't play their usual games. If they can't be divided, then they can't be conquered. Mackinder lives on.

“Does NATO/EU not have any confidence in their own military ability?”

No, they don't, because their military ability is almost nil. They have enough military power to intimidate their own citizenry and stamp out resistance to their rule, but they are a paper tiger without US backing. The only thing they have going for them, which the recent Canadian prime minister debate exposed, is nukes from Great Britain and France.

The EU/NATO countries, as well as the Neocon warmongers and profiteers in the U.S. continually have the mockingbird media push the “unprovoked” narrative,...that Big bad Russia was totally unprovoked in its naked aggression of going into Ukraine.

Another, interrelated myth they constantly promote, is to conflate Russia with the USSR, and to express fear that Putin wants to invade and occupy countries like Poland, that are currently part of NATO, and maybe even take over England, France, etc..

And yet, as President Trump has pointed out many times, they purchase their energy from Russia, empowering their alleged enemy who wants to invade and dominate them?

Russia is NOT the USSR, although given NATO/EU expansionist policies, from Russias point of view Stalin was exactly right to occupy Poland, etc. as a “buffer” or insulation against the West..

They can not and will not willingly let go of these two false narratives, and one reason is the 100's of Billions in “Frozen” Russian assets, which they can not liquidate, UNLESS it is considered reparations by Russia, for being the aggressor.

In fact, in truth is is Western Countries, including the U.S. that should be paying reparations, for starting the war, and keeping it going.

And, Russia has no interest in occupying Poland, let alone England, etc.

PDJT knows this, Putin knows this, and neither have much patience with pretending and liars.

The United Nations rejected a resolution calling to end the war in Ukraine because it did not state that Russia was the aggressor. MSM called it a “win” for Ukraine.

End VBM fraud to strengthen MAGA:

🔥 The Florida Voter Fraud Case That Could Overturn Democrat Cheat-By-Mail 🔥

By Jeff Lukens

Current 119th Congress: Senate 53R-47D, House 218R-215D with 2 Vacancies in R districts.

Last November, Democrat fraudsters bypassed the presidential race and focused instead on the down-ballot races.

🔥 In Florida, local Democrat candidates received more votes than either Donald Trump or Kamala Harris at the top of the ballot. 🔥

Something was definitely amiss.

The Ticktin Law Group has since identified a systematic breakdown of internal election controls that affected the FL-14 race and other races far beyond.

🔥 They have found duplicate voters called “clones” in the voter rolls. 🔥

These fraudulent clones are digital people created based on the identities of real people, with minor variations in name spelling, birth dates, and addresses.

🔥 Multiple clones can be made based on the identity of a single real person. 🔥

As a result, fraudsters can manufacture unlimited numbers of these cloned voters in the cyber world.

🔥 The Tickton Law Group estimate approximately two million cloned voters just on the Florida voter rolls alone. 🔥

The Ticktin team has also developed an algorithm that can scan the voter rolls and identify these clone voters.

They found that whoever created these clones in the voter rolls was using sophisticated encryption on a level that the National Security Agency might use.

🔥 If not for Democrat Cheat-by-Mail, it would likely be 57R in the Senate (Lake-AZ, Brown-NV, Hovde-WI, Rogers-MI), and more than a half dozen additional Rs in the House 🔥

🔥 The Democrat party’s goal in stealing down-ballot elections in 2024 was to ensure the GOP got a majority in the U.S. House and Senate that was ‘too small to rule’. 🔥

Florida

The vote-by-mail (VBM) — or more accurately cheat-by-mail — voting process begins when the voter fills out the Florida Statewide Vote-By-Mail Ballot Request Form.

A critical piece of this process is the voter’s driver’s license number or the last four digits of the Social Security number, which are filled out at the top of the form.

🔥 When these fields are left blank, they are informally referred to as “No-No” ballots because no information is provided in either field 🔥

Without this information, it is a felony to send the so-called voter a ballot.

🔥 Across Florida, Ticktin has uncovered 592,335 VBM “No-No” ballots issued to requestors who did not provide the required identification but were mailed a ballot anyway 🔥

🔥 Of these illegally issued ballots, 475,340 were returned to their counties, where they were processed and counted as votes. 🔥

During election season, the typical number of requests for VBM ballots across Florida averages a few thousand per day.

🔥 On September 9, 2024, 196,986 “No-No” requests for VBMs arrived in Pinellas County alone, and on September 13, 2024, 245,255 “No-No” requests arrived in Miami-Dade County alone 🔥

These are huge red flags.

🔥 Once the ballot is separated from the envelope, the illegitimate ballots are mingled with the legitimate ones, and the votes are counted 🔥

Local Democrat down-ballot candidates outperformed state averages in the VBM tally, especially in Hillsborough County.

In these races, Democrats lost the in-person vote at the polling locations but won the VBM vote by a wide margin.

These would include school board, property appraiser, and supervisor of elections races.

Even a county millage tax increase was approved by a lopsided number of VBM votes.

Ticktin has brought Rochford’s case before a Florida court in Tallahassee to determine whether and how much fraud occurred in this race.

🔥 If the court establishes fraud, we can assume voter rolls are compromised in all 50 states 🔥

🔥 Such a ruling would then give President Trump grounds to purge dirty voter rolls in Florida and all other states nationwide and start anew with a verifiably clean and secure list of voters. 🔥

And maybe, just maybe, they don’t have the military forces/capability they say they have?
