Right now, there's a nationwide debate raging over a group you may have never even heard of—USAID.

So, what exactly is USAID? Well, if you look on Wikipedia, you'll see this fairytale definition:

The United States Agency for International Development (USAID) is an independent agency of the United States government that is primarily responsible for administering civilian foreign aid and development assistance. With a budget of over $50 billion,[4] USAID is one of the largest official aid agencies in the world and accounts for more than half of all U.S. foreign assistance – the highest in the world in absolute dollar terms. USAID has missions in over 100 countries, primarily in Africa, Asia, Latin America, the Middle East, and Eastern Europe.

But as you've probably guessed by now, there's a lot more to this story.

First off, plenty of politicians love USAID—especially crooked snakes like Ilhan Omar, whose third-world hellhole of a homeland raked in $2.3 billion of our tax dollars.

Paul A. Szypula

@Bubblebathgirl · Follow

Ilhan Omar supports USAID because almost $2.3 billion of our tax dollars were wasted on Somalia. Omar swore allegiance to Somalia over America.

She said, "I am here to protect the interests of Somalia from within the US system."

This violates Omar's oath to Congress and the US.

In addition, USAID is operating with basically zero accountability and a mind-blowing $50 billion budget—which is absolutely insane, as Secretary of State Marco Rubio recently pointed out.

“The attitude that USAID has adopted over the years is ‘no, we are independent of the national interests, we fund programs irrespective of whether it is aligned or not aligned with the foreign policy,” says @SecRubio.

“That’s ridiculous — these are taxpayer dollars.”

The reason Democrat politicians are in front of USAID throwing a fit, is not because they care about giving aid to foreign countries.

It's because they are beneficiaries of the money laundering and racketeering schemes.

Their panic confirms everything.

Let’s face it, right now, we’re nearly $37 TRILLION in debt, yet somehow, we’re still throwing taxpayer dollars around like Monopoly money, and meddling in other countries’ affairs. It’s absolute insanity. This nonstop funneling of cash into foreign nations and CIA-backed spy games has to end.

READ MORE: Trump punishes South Africa’s anti-white racism—unhinged president fires back and makes it worse...

And speaking of CIA games—wait until you hear what your hard-earned tax dollars were wasted on through USAID... killing populism and turning Brazil back into a Marxist, progressive hellhole, courtesy of the US government.

Catch Up:

Mike Benz on how USAID spent tens of millions of dollars of US taxpayer funds to remove Jair Bolsonaro from power and end free speech in Brazil:

“When populist waves swept the world within the U. S. in 2016 with Trump and with what happened all over Europe with Marine Le Pen and Matteo Salvini and Nigel Farage, USAID declared censorship holy war against every single populist group, including Bolsonaro. Steve, I’m telling you right now, if USAID did not exist, Bolsonaro would still be the president of Brazil and Brazil would still have a free and open internet.

It was USAID that spent tens of millions of dollars of American taxpayer money funding the push to get anti misinformation bills passed in the parliament there. Funding the legal advocates who pushed the censorship court there, the TSE, to crack down on Bolsonaro. tweets and WhatsApp and Telegram messages.

They built a censorship octopus in Brazil and it was built entirely on USAID because USAID declared Bolsonaro a populist, Trump of the tropics, and then set up this operation to control the information ecosystem there. One of the USAID grantees even said on a public call that the purpose was to eliminate the, uh, the international exchange of ideas between the Trump movement and the Bolsonaro movement.

That’s what USAID does. They kill domestic populism because it gets in the way of their foreign policy goals.”

Think about it: USAID ousting Bolsonaro and ensuring a Lula victory gave China the boost they needed in the region, and did absolutely nothing for the United States – all it did was advance the toxic left-wing agenda.

You can watch the entire bombshell interview below:

And Mike's observations are backed up completely by this left-leaning article from last year, which lays out the Biden regime's all-out coup d'état agenda to take down Bolsonaro.

Foreign Policy:

[...] the Biden administration mounted a sustained pressure campaign aimed at Brazil's military, which began as early as 2021. The effort, as first reported in Folha de São Paulo and also covered by Foreign Policy, involved explicit public warnings by U.S. senators about not respecting election results as well as continuous back-channel conversations to make clear that a democratic rupture would leave Brazil isolated on the international stage—and lead to a downgrade of U.S.-Brazil security cooperation, which is highly valued by Brazil's military establishment.

The campaign involved the U.S. White House, State Department, CIA, Senate, and—notably—the Pentagon. In retrospect, including that last agency may have been the Biden administration's most decisive move. U.S. Secretary of Defense Lloyd Austin was employed as Biden's chief public emissary to Brazil's generals. It was a natural choice given the tense relationship between Biden and Bolsonaro, the latter of whom followed Trump's lead in parroting falsehoods about supposed fraud during the 2020 U.S. presidential election. Austin was also a more credible interlocutor since Brazil's military was the intended target of the U.S. campaign.

The sheer number of U.S. actors involved in the campaign meant that, for much of 2022, many Brazilian government officials visiting Washington received an unambiguous message from the U.S. government about the need for Brazil's military officers to respect the electoral process. Shortly before Brazil's election, the U.S. Senate passed a resolution calling on Brazil to ensure the vote is “conducted in a free, fair, credible, transparent, and peaceful manner.” In order to minimize the risk of a coup, Biden, along with numerous Western allies, publicly congratulated Lula for his victory in the hours after the official results were made public.

READ MORE: One female activist judge just pissed off Elon and killed Delaware...

Honestly, the Bolsonaro scheme alone is reason enough to shut down USAID for good—but there are plenty more reasons on the table. The reality is this: USAID looks like nothing more than a slush fund for the intelligence community—a taxpayer-funded cookie jar used to spread left-wing, globalist influence and propaganda around the world. It's time to kill this program and launch a full-blown investigation.

I wonder why nobody has found grift to be had off an America-first agenda that would actually be good for the country and it's people. Can money be made on the side only with a socialist, destabilizing/disruptive, and anti-Western agenda?

Well, the size of the America First state would be much smaller. Distributions would not be aimed at achieving social change, without regard to efficacy. Probably efficacy of distributions as a measure of their propriety would stop most grift, since distributions to grifters would detract from efficacy.

True. Most of the MAGA I interact with are sophisticated enough to understand this. That's why Senators who are RINOs or uniparty, whatever- they are being threatened with primaries, if they don't give the people the common sense path that most of us voted for. MOST seasoned career politicians of whatever supposed stripe have no allegiance to anyone or anything, other than to their own

USAID, NGO's, drug cartels, JFK. State Dept, etc.

They are quickly building a case to deal with something Eisenhower lost control of in the mid-50's. The idea of changing the name of Dulles Airport-- since the Dulles Bros. set up the Deep State under Ike -- is a signal that their legacy is coming to an end.
